"The College's motto is: This is how College is meant to be. I have thought about how true that is when I have seen Susan and Al visit over the years. Their relationship began in a classroom here on Woods Quad many years ago, was born out of a mutual love of artistic expression and exploration, and has graced their lives over the years in very meaningful ways."

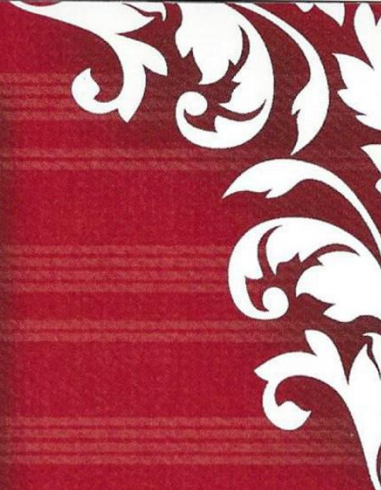

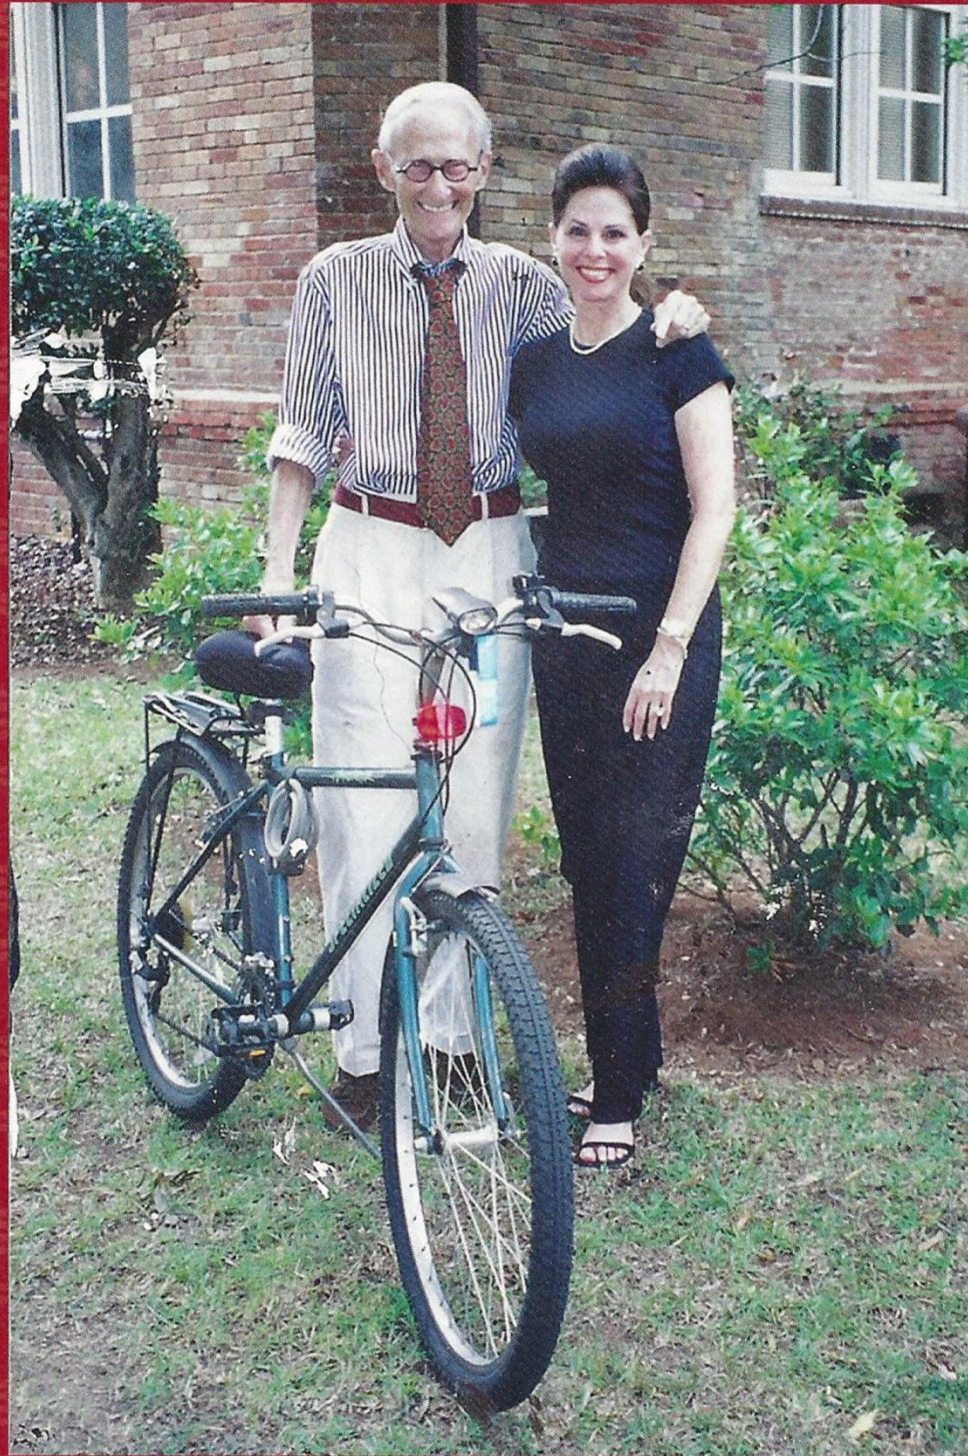

~ Bob Olin, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at The University of Alabama

"All of my art professors at the University were extremely talented and special, but Al just stood out more than the others, with his New York accent. He never minced words, which might be an understatement, and he always said exactly what was on his mind."
